Review Your Claim Settlement Details

April 14, 2025

Dear Mrs. Pawlowski,

Thank you for trusting us with your insurance needs. We've issued an electronic funds transfer (EFT) payment in the amount of $21,922.48 to your account ending in 375 for the following claim:

Claim number:	007650916-802
Date of loss:	March 03, 2025
Loss location:	Chagrin Falls, OHIO

Here's how we determined your payment:

Replacement cost:	$43,580.91
Less recoverable depreciation:	$-18,442.60
Less deductible:	$-500.00
Actual cash value settlement:	$24,638.31
Less Building Code Upgrades:	$-2,715.83
Amount due member:	$21,922.48

For more information regarding this payment, please review the estimate attached.

What is recoverable depreciation?
The Loss Settlement Provision of your policy provides that we will pay for the cost to repair or replace damaged property due to a covered loss; however your initial payment may consist of the actual cash value only. This will be the replacement cost less deduction for depreciation based on the age and condition of the damaged property. Once the repair or replacement is complete, you will be able to claim the recoverable depreciation which will be the lesser of the amount necessary to repair or replace the damaged property or the amount you actually spent, minus your deductible and any amount already paid for the damaged property.

How long do I have to claim the recoverable depreciation?
The Loss Settlement Provision of your policy outlines the following time requirements for requesting reimbursement of recoverable depreciation:

- You must complete the repair or replacement of the damaged property within one year after the actual cash value payment has been issued; or
- Notify us in writing during this time period to request an additional 180 days, if necessary.

What documentation is required to claim recoverable depreciation?
Please send us copies of the repair contract, invoice, repair bill and any receipts. These documents should include:

- An itemized list of the work done and description of any items replaced.
- Documentation of all costs.
- The completion date for work done and replacement date of any items replaced.

What happens if the repair cost exceeds the insurance estimate?
You must provide us a copy of your estimate if the expected cost of repair or replacement is greater than our estimate. We must agree to any increased amount before you have the repair or replacement completed; otherwise, you may pay more out of pocket than necessary to repair or replace your damaged property.

Questions about your settlement?
While we've processed your claim, we're here for you if you have any questions during the repair process. You can still use the USAA Mobile App, Claims Center, or claim email address to:

- Communicate with your adjuster.
- Submit a supplement for additional damage or costs.
- Submit your final invoice for recoverable depreciation payment (if applicable).

Considering replacing or repairing your roof?
Protecting your home against severe weather and other natural disasters begins with a strong roof. Consider discussing weather-resistant materials with your contractor when planning on improving or replacing your roof.

Impact-resistant roofs could help your home sustain less heavy damage from hail and other debris, and sealed deck roofs can add another layer of protection against water damage. Learn more at usaa.com/impactresistantroof.

Understanding Your Policy
Log on to usaa.com to update your homeowners insurance policy information with any improvements made to ensure you're receiving any applicable discounts. You can find your Homeowners policy under "My Accounts Summary." There you'll find eligibility requirements like location and rating standards.

This loss settlement is an estimate of what it will cost to repair the covered property based on damages evident at the time of the adjuster's inspection or assessment. Please make sure that all necessary repairs are completed. If the reported damage is not repaired, this could result in the denial of a future claim for the same or related damage. If during the course of repairs, you discover additional damages not included in this estimate, it is your duty under the insurance policy to promptly notify us and allow us the opportunity to inspect the additional damages. It is also your responsibility under the insurance policy to take reasonable and necessary steps to prevent further damage to covered property.

Important Legal Information
Your policy's Suit Against Us Provision prohibits you from taking any action against us unless you have given us notice of the loss, complied with all policy provisions, and started legal action within two (2) years after the date of loss.

Line-items - A description of the items needed to repair or replace covered damages, with their cost according to the price list.

Actual cash value or ACV - What your property was worth at the time of the damage, after subtracting depreciation. This is the amount insurance will pay up front for repairs, minus your deductible.

Line-item total - The total cost of the itemized repairs for the coverage, using the calculation: RCV minus Depreciation equals ACV.

How we determine your payment

First payment
We take the cost to replace or repair covered damage, then subtract value lost due to wear and tear, as well as your out-of-pocket policy cost. Use this payment to start repairs.

Additional payments, if applicable
For consideration of additional covered cost, you can submit a supplement for your claim through the Claims Center on our mobile app or usaa.com.

Example of a calculated payment

$10,000	Replacement cost value
-$500	Depreciation
-$1,000	Deductible
$8,500	First payment

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

The FAQ's and answers below will be helpful in the claim process. If there is any conflict between these answers and the policy, your policy controls. Please read your policy.

How is my initial Dwelling payment determined?
Subject to the applicable deductible and policy conditions, Dwelling payments are generally based on the cost to repair or replace the damaged property with similar construction and for the same use on the same premises. When the cost to repair or replace the damaged dwelling exceeds $5000, USAA will pay a portion of the claim up front (the actual cash value of the loss), and the balance (recoverable depreciation) when the repairs are complete.

How do I collect the recoverable depreciation?
Where initial payment for Dwelling loss is in the amount of Actual Cash Value, to receive additional amounts (recoverable depreciation), you must complete the actual repair or replacement of the damaged part of the property. When repair or replacement is actually completed, the policy will pay the covered additional amount you actually and necessarily incurred to repair or replace the property, but not to exceed the approved replacement cost of your claim (our cost). In no case will USAA pay more than the total amount of the actual repairs less your policy deductible.

Why is the check made out to me and someone else (or some other company)?
If your check includes the name of your mortgage company it is because we are required to include their name on our payment to you, per the mortgage clause on your policy. The check must be presented to them for their endorsement prior to submitting it to our bank for payment. Incomplete endorsements will result in the check being returned without payment. Please contact us if the mortgagee information is incorrect so that we may update that information and issue a correct payment to you.

What if I'm not going to repair or replace my damaged property using the same material?
Please contact us if you choose to repair or replace the damaged building part with a different material or type of construction from what is on our estimate. Replacement or repair differing from the original estimate could affect any replacement cost claim you are otherwise eligible to collect.

What if my contractor's estimate is different from USAA's estimate?
Show the USAA estimate to your contractor. If your contractor's estimate is higher, please contact USAA prior to starting the repairs to your home as the additional charges may not be covered.
